

Bunny Maloney

BAND STORY

"

Bunny Maloney was born in Kingston, Jamaica lived and grew up in the Waterhouse Section. At about the age of 15, a friend introduced him to the world of music. He then began singing in his school choir. At the time, it never occurred to him that he could be a recording artist until a friend suggested that they link up together to form a group because Bunny had a great voice and a lot of musical talent. At that time Bunny started realizing that he wanted to do more musically and what he really had was a gift for music. From then on he took it seriously, forming his own band with school friends and started playing at Clubs around Kingston, like the Bohemia. In those days Waterhouse was like a community of singers. Groups on every corner. Men like Michael Rose, Junior Reed, Black Uhuru, King Benj-I and many more came from that area.

"

STATS

Visits	Plays
13,906	2,654
Streams	Downloads
2,654	0

Featured Songs

- Do You Love Me
Reggae
- I'll Be True
Reggae

LATEST NEWS

About Bunny Maloney

Bunny Maloney was born in Kingston, Jamaica lived and grew up in the Waterhouse Section. At about the age of 15, a friend introduced him to the world of music. He then began singing in his school choir. At the time, it never occurred to him that he could be a recording artist until a friend suggested that they link up together to form a group because Bunny had a great voice and a lot of musical talent. At that time Bunny started realizing that he wanted to do more musically and what he really had was a gift for music. From then on he took it seriously, forming his own band with school friends and started playing at Clubs around Kingston, like the Bohemia. In those days Waterhouse was like a community of singers. Groups on every corner. Men like Michael Rose, Junior Reed, Black Uhuru, King Benj-I and many more came from that area.